

Training on cross-border healthcare for travel assistance organisations and travel insurers

Overview

Jonathan Olsson Consulting provides specialised trainings on different topics related to coordination of social security and cross-border health care within the EU. The trainings are tailored to meet the specific needs of your organisation. To meet your requirements I will have a close dialog with you before the training to learn more about your organisation and your expectations on the training.

Program

The training focuses on access to necessary healthcare during a temporary stay abroad, e.g. for tourists, business travellers etc.

The training starts with a presentation of Regulation (EC) No 883/2004 on the coordination of social security systems and Directive 2011/24/EU on the application of patients' rights in cross-border healthcare.

Once the legislative foundation has been laid down focus is turned to the definition of necessary care and the use of the European Health Insurance Card (EHIC). We will also discuss the relationship between private travel insurance and the European Health Insurance Card.

The training will be tailored to the needs of your organisation by covering specific areas of relevance and focusing on the countries you work against on a daily bases. I will help you understand the public healthcare system and inform you about who to contact in case of difficulties linked to e.g. acceptance of the European Health Insurance Card.

Finally, we will briefly speak about the future for the European Health Insurance Card and the possibility of an electronic system. When can a system be in place and what would it mean for your organisation?

Location

I will run the training for you, in the facilities of your choice, at a time and date to suit you.

Duration

The training can be provided over 2 hours, a half day or one full day depending on your needs.

Language

The training can be provided in English or Swedish.
